

A vertical column of 20 identical, empty rectangular boxes. Each box is a simple black outline with a small triangle pointing to the right at its top-right corner. The boxes are stacked vertically with a small gap between each one, serving as a template for a list or data entry.